Speaker:

Mr. AYUSH JAIN
Alumni, School of Law

❖ Introduction:

The "Discussion on Law of Human Trafficking" was a significant event organized by Research Club, School of Law, Presidency University to raise awareness, foster dialogue, and develop strategies to combat the global issue of human trafficking. Held at NG01, the symposium brought together experts, law enforcement agencies, government officials, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and advocates working tirelessly to eradicate this heinous crime.

❖ Keynote Address:

The discussion commenced with a compelling keynote address by Mr. Ayush Jain is an alumnus of School of Law, Presidency University who is also a legal practitioner by profession. The keynote speaker shed light on the prevalence and complexity of human trafficking, emphasizing the need for collective action to address this grave violation of human rights. The comprehensive session provided an in-depth understanding of human trafficking, covering its various forms, including sex trafficking, forced labour, child trafficking, and organ trafficking. Participants were educated about the factors that contribute to the vulnerability of individuals, making them susceptible to trafficking networks. They highlighted the challenges in prosecuting traffickers and the importance of strengthening legislative measures to hold perpetrators accountable.

❖ Collaborative Efforts and Partnerships:

The speaker laid down the significance of collaboration between governments, NGOs, law enforcement agencies, and the private sector in the fight against human trafficking. The discussion stressed the importance of information sharing, joint investigations, and coordinated efforts to dismantle trafficking networks and also role of technology in human trafficking. Experts discussed the dark web, social media, and other digital platforms being exploited by traffickers to recruit and exploit victims. The discussion highlighted the necessity of leveraging technology for counter-trafficking initiatives and digital awareness campaigns.

❖ Conclusion:

The " Discussion on Law of Human Trafficking " served as a critical platform for stakeholders to come together, share knowledge, and strengthen the global fight against this horrendous crime. The event emphasized the need for sustained efforts to address the root causes of human trafficking and enhance victim protection. Participants left the discussion with a deeper understanding of the complexities of human trafficking and renewed determination to collaborate across sectors to end this human rights violation. The event highlighted the importance of multi-faceted approaches, combining legal action, survivor support, technology, and prevention strategies, to effectively combat human trafficking and create a safer world for all.
