

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

National Handloom Day
2025

About the Event	SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth), SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) and SDG 12 (Responsible Consumption and Production) The ISR Cell, in collaboration with the Presidency School of Design and the Department of Student Affairs (DSA), celebrated the 11th National Handloom Day on August 7, 2025, with the objective of promoting sustainable fashion, preserving traditional weaving techniques, and supporting local artisans. The event paid tribute to the invaluable contribution of handloom weavers to India's cultural and economic fabric. The celebration featured interactive discussions, creative showcases, and vibrant displays, all emphasising the elegance and sustainability of India's textile traditions. Adding to the occasion, a handloom stall by Prathibhoomi Fashion Designing, curated by Ms. Amrutha, showcased an exquisite collection of sarees that reflected the timeless artistry and craftsmanship of India's weaving heritage.
