Introduction

Presidency School of Allied Health Sciences is committed to addressing the growing demand for a skilled and compassionate healthcare workforce. The institution plays a vital role in strengthening the healthcare ecosystem by preparing professionals who support, complement, and enhance the work of physicians and other healthcare specialists.

With a focus on academic excellence, clinical expertise, and holistic development, the School offers programs such as the Bachelor of Physiotherapy (B.PT), designed to equip students with the knowledge and hands-on skills required to excel in modern healthcare settings. Through a blend of rigorous training and real-world exposure, we empower students to become competent, ethical, and patient-centered healthcare professionals.

Eligibility Criteria
