Placements
A Perspective

Employability is the buzzword that is being discussed very often in the media, educational forums emphasising its importance. At Presidency University, employability is a well worked upon subject. Students are introduced to the focus areas of placements and industry expectations as early as in the joining orientation.

Placements - A Perspective

Joining Orientation → Skill Building Initiatives through Depts → Pre-Placement Training → Student Interactions → Placement Support → Placements
As students' progress through semesters & academics, apart from the departmental regular skill building initiatives like projects, certifications etc., students are also trained on various analytical and soft skill aspects such as Aptitude (Quant, Logical and verbal), Grooming, Communication Skills etc. for about 150 hrs. Further, students are trained on functional skills like coding and also placement specific skills such as resume writing, group discussion and personal interview skills. A dedicated learning and development team of 20 trainers execute this student shaping exercise along with the support from hired professional organisations.

To augment the placements, University has signed Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Capgemini opening up three state of the art Centres of Excellence in the domains of Full Stack Development, VLSI, and Product Life Cycle management. Similarly,University has signed MoU with Tech Mahindra for Java Full Stack and .Net Full Stack Technologies. University is in discussion with few more organisations in establishing Centres of Excellence in other domains.

A well trained large talent pool of the University along with responsive facilitation of the placement process by the CS & IC team has made it a preferred campus for recruitment by many large organisations.
